

SANTA, KRAMPUS and CHRISTMAS

WARNING – THIS MESSAGE CONTAINS SCARY IMAGES**

Pray a protection prayer and cover all in the blood of Jesus Christ – we only receive what is of God and Jesus and Holy Spirit.

What on earth? Notice this ugly black goat/man with his red tongue hanging out.
Who is he? What is krampus? Does he have to do with Christmas?

WHO is Krampus?

The legend of the devilish Krampus, though rooted in Germanic folklore, now spans centuries and continents. Said to roam the streets in early December in search of naughty children to punish, this foreboding figure wields a handful of birch sticks for whipping disobedient youngsters, carrying the most unruly off to the underworld on his back. Good children will instead be rewarded by St Nicholas. Krampusnacht, a night of costumed revelry, is celebrated every December 5th with participants donning masks and clanging bells in a parade known as the Krampuslauf.

Rooted in Germanic folklore. We have been learning that most science fiction is actually truth, and that what was taught as mythology is mostly true too, folklore is no different. Notice this is coming from Germany. What else came from Germany? Hitler, SS, nazi's, the Thule Society, MK Ultra mind control, the Rothschilds, and more.

Rev.2:12-13 - And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges; I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast My name, and hast not denied My faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was My faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where satan dwelleth.

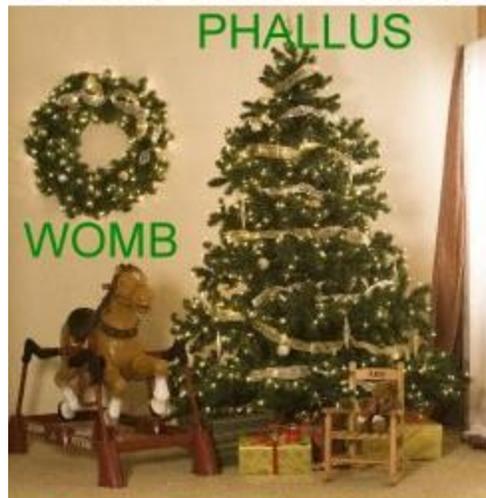

In this map the Ottoman Empire is Turkey and Jesus said satan’s seat was in Turkey. You can see that Germany and Turkey are not very far apart. I remember what John Todd said about the Rothschilds, that they would not leave Europe because they felt they could be in direct contact with satan there. Remember he is not omnipresent as Jesus Christ is.

The Christmas tree custom was brought to the US by German immigrants. In England, Queen Victoria's German husband, Prince Albert, introduced the same custom. The first written record of the German Christmas tree (Tannenbaum) custom dates back to 1605, but it probably began no later than 1550.

BAAL & ASHERAH

PHALLUS
WOMB
SUN WREATH &
IMAGE OF JEALOUSY

Germans were big on sun worship as are all secret societies. This is their god and goddess.

Jeremiah 10:2-4 – Thus saith the LORD, Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven; for the heathen are dismayed at them. For the customs of the people are vain (of no value): for one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman, with the axe. They deck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not.

Ezekiel 8:3 – And He put forth the form of an hand, and took me by a lock of mine head; and the Spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the inner gate that looketh toward the north; where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provoketh to jealousy.

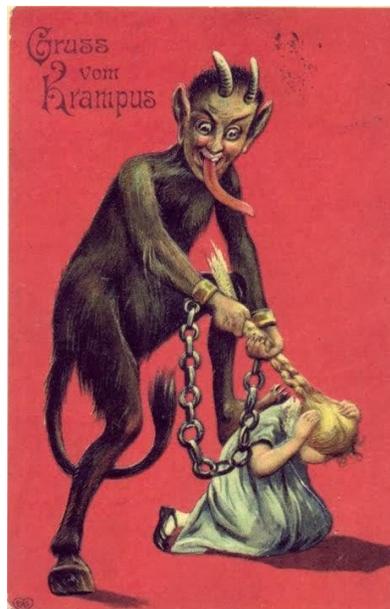

Why would a phallus image (the tree/obelisk) provoke God to jealousy? Some have said that it was an altar to zeus that is the image of jealousy. Remember zeus is also another name for the sun god baal and those same altars apply to him. So why would this provoke God to jealousy? Because it was first of all placed in His holy city where He chose to place His name and because His children were prostituting themselves (cheating on God) in worship to it, to a false god.

This next passage is when God came to Gideon to lead His people and He was about to have Gideon destroy some idols and altars to the false god baal and do a holy sacrifice to the LORD.

Judges 6:25 – And it came to pass the same night, that the LORD said unto him, Take thy father’s young bullock, even the second bullock of seven years old, and throw down the altar of baal that thy father hath, and cut down the grove (images – asherah poles) that is by it:

Here is a modern day krampus walking the streets. Doesn't this look evil? This is still celebrated in Europe today.

Krampus is featured on holiday greeting cards called Krampuskarten. This looks like a copy of a vintage krampus card: gross vom krampus / greetings from krampus. In traditional parades and in such events as

The Krampuslauf (English: Krampus run), young men dressed as Krampus participate; such events occur annually in most Alpine towns.

In a brief article discussing the figure, published in 1958, Maurice Bruce wrote:

There seems to be little doubt as to his true identity for, in no other form is the full regalia of the Horned God of the Witches so well preserved. The birch – apart from its phallic significance – may have a connection with the initiation rites of certain witch-covens; rites which entailed binding and scourging as a form of mock-death. The chains could have been introduced in a Christian attempt to 'bind the Devil' but again they could be a remnant of pagan initiation rites.

L: St. Nicholas, but who do you really see? That's right, the pope. That's because the catholic church brought in the pagan traditions and repackaged them and sent them out as "Christian". That is a masonic cross on the fish mitre hat that shows worship of dagon. R: krampus, the christmas devil

One of the bizarre jobs of St. Nick's devilish helper was to "gleefully drag sinners to Hell!" On the eve of December 6th, the myth told that this bearded, white-haired old "saint," clad in a wide mantel, rode through the skies on a white horse (like the rider on a white horse in Revelation 6), together with his slave, the swarthy Dark Helper. This reluctant helper had to disperse gifts to good people, but much preferred to threaten them with his broom-like scourge, and, at a sign of his master, would gleefully drag sinners away to a place of eternal suffering—Renterghem, Tony van. When Santa Was a Shaman. St. Paul: Llewellyn Publications, 1995.

Krampus, the original version of Santa's Elf in Austria, would punish wrongdoers instead of God. He would bring the children a "bag of switches/branches" to beat them with. In Ezekiel 8:17 we learn more about this particular branch. (they put the branch to their noses) This branch is a reference to the mistletoe and also to the “abominable branch” in Isaiah 14 known as “The King of Babylon” (Nimrod) because he was “cut down” like a tree as his limbs were severed by Noah’s son Shem and they were sent to all the provinces in the land of Shinar— The book of Jasher; The Two Babylons, by Alexander Hislop; The Antiquities, Josephus. We should mention here also another figure: Ruebezahl, who is a German mythical, giant-like person, who is a mixture of Krampus (the Devil) and Santa.” —Santa’s Origin.

Both of these characters are forms of nimrod/sun god – baal/satan himself

Old Nick

Variations: Nekker, Nikker ("to wash")

Old Nick is a colloquialism for "the Devil" taken from the German word kikker, which was originally in German mythology as a Teutonic water sprite. Old Nick's appearance to a sailor was considered to be a death omen.

Sources: Baskin, Dictionary of Satanism, 243; Encyclopedia Britannica, Vol. 19, 719; Grimm, Teutonic Mythology, 488; Stallybrass, Teutonic Mythology, Vol. 4, 235.

Nicholas. Greek: Niko-laos, "the racial victor." This saint is intimately connected with the water god (see Nik).

Night. In the Rig Veda night is both the mother and the sister of the dawn, and the sunset is her elder sister.

Nightingale. In mythology the bird of night and of love (see Prof. Angelo de Gubernatis, Zool. Mythol., ii, p. 230).

Nik. Nick. Nig. Nix. The Teutonic water god: the "choker" (see Nag) or demon that drowns; and our "old Nick." The water spirits were called Nixes; and the name is also found as Noken, Nockel, and Niglo, and so confused with that of St Nicholas. Nikor, or Nical, used to be written up on walls as a charm to drive off demons. In Norse legends Nugl (or Noken) was a dapple-grey

There is no confusion with St. Nicholas as the catholic church made him up to justify having a character named Nicholas and many are not aware of this even today.

STRONGS NT 3531: Νικολαΐτης

Νικολαΐτης, Νικολαιτου, ό, a follower of Nicolaus, a Nicolaitan: plural, Revelation 2:6, 15 — a name which, it can scarcely be doubted, refers symbolically to the same persons who in Revelation 2:14 are charged with holding την διδαχὴν Βαλαάμ, i. e. after the example of Balaam, casting a stumblingblock before the church of God (Numbers 24:1-3) by upholding the liberty of eating things sacrificed unto idols as well as of committing fornication; for the Greek name Νικόλαος coincides with the Hebrew נִלְוָה according to the interpretation of the latter which regards it as signifying destruction of the people. See in Βαλαάμ; (cf. BB. DD., under the words Nicolaitans, Nicolas; also commentaries on Revelation, at the passages cited).

A "NICOLAS SPIRIT"

This nefarious attempt to mix the saints has been termed a "Nicolas spirit."

Now before all the wonderful brethren out there named Nicolas get in an uproar, the name Nicolas is Greek, Nikolaos (Strong's #3532, from Nike, the goddess of victory, "to utterly vanquish," and laos, "the people," where we get the English word "laity"—this comes from the Greek las, "stone," supposedly from a legend that mankind was repopulated from stones after a great flood). Nicolas means to conquer the people, literally "I win people," or "I dominate over the conquered." Now we soften this today and say it means the "victor of the people" and this is sort of correct, but in truth the compound words convey the notion of "putting down the people."

In Acts 6:5, one of the original seven deacons was Nicolas of Antioch, a proselyte (meaning he converted from Roman paganism to Judaism) who became Christian. Early church leaders—Irenaeus, Hippolytus, Epiphanius—cite this Nicolas as starting a heretical cult preaching a mixture of Christianity and licentious behavior, extreme self-indulgence, smacking of Diana worship—if not in name, then certainly in the "spirit" of Diana. He taught it was okay to mix the occult practices with Judaism and Christianity, lumping it all together and not making a distinction with the purity of Christ's doctrine. What a dangerous proposition!

Nimrod

Nicolaitanes were followers of Nicolas. The name Nicolas means 'conqueror of people', being based on the Greek words 'nikos', meaning 'conqueror' or 'destroyer', and 'laos', meaning 'people'. Nicolas is the Greek variation of the name Nimrod, which means 'we will rebel'.

Saturn is another variation of the name Nimrod. Before being associated with Christmas, December 25th was called 'Saturnalia', the birthday of Saturn. Given the connection between Nimrod and Nicholas it is no coincidence that Santa Claus, or Saint Nicolas, is a prominent figure at this time. Saturnalia upheld the same principles as the Nicolaitanes and was itself a time of unrestrained indulgence, with drunkenness, revelry, and riotous behaviour, where even slaves obtained temporary freedom to join in.

Santa is nimrod. The catholic church made St. Nicholas up to help keep the people deceived believing there was a good saint that was doing good deeds and he morphed into santa. They wanted people to continue in this idolatry. However, we can see that nimrod and him being worshiped as a god on earth, the sun god, has been around since Genesis, the beginning.

Isaiah 14:13 – For you (satan) have said in your heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north:

So we see here that satan is associated with the north. I usually think of Turkey when I think of the north from a Biblical perspective because all directions are based from Israel. But the Scandinavian countries are not much further over from Turkey. The devil's throne is in the north, santa stays at the north pole.

The figure is also preserved in Pennsylvania Dutch communities.^[2]

Let’s listen to a Jim Staley teaching on the history of the pagan holiday of saturnalia or bachernalia and see where “Christmas” came from. I do not follow Jim Staley as he is a Hebrew Roots movement believer, but this particular teaching is good research and truth.

Please play from 1:02:02 to 1:02:54 and from 1:03:25 to 1:07:44 and from 1:08:06 to 1:16:57 (about 15 min’s)

He breaks down some false gods and shows us how all of the christmas traditions came from pagan worship of fallen angels and of the devil and of sun worship.

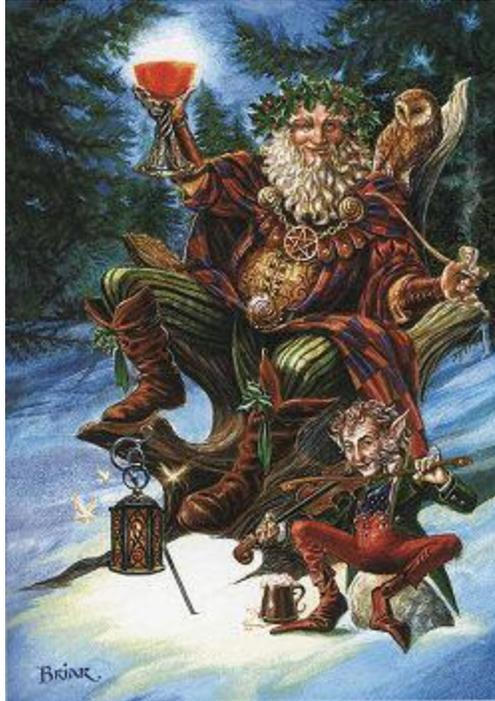

Krampus is traditionally said to appear on the 5th of December, on a day known as Krampusnacht, or Krampus Night. This is the eve of Nikolaustag, or St. Nicholas Day, when German children look outside to see if the boot they left out the night before is filled with presents or switches.

On the night of the 5th, Krampus appears in the streets, sometimes accompanied by St. Nicholas, although sometimes by himself, as well. It is during this time that the creature visits homes, supplying coal and beating rods as his own dark version of Santa's gifts.

In what is likely the most terrifying fact of all, Krampus doesn't stop at merely giving bad children coal or whipping them with birch branches. He also abducts them. And takes them to hell. For a year. Ever wonder why parents would tell their children they might get a stocking stuffed with coal? This is where it came from.

Krampus greeting cards have been sent back-n-forth since the 1800's. In some of the cards, Krampus becomes decidedly even more creepy as he lusts after various women, who seem to be just fine with the whole situation, judging by their serene faces. Unfortunately, this aspect of Krampus has found its way into the Krampuslauf, where drunken men in costume frequently harass their town's young women.

Festive druid card – this shows what the “spirit” of Christmas has always been about. Wickedness, drunkenness, and idolatry.

L: fallen angel saturn eating his children, also known as “father time” R: “father time” in the children’s animated show “Rudolph’s Shiny New Year” Why does innocent little “father time” hold a scythe? Now you can see why, because he is saturn and this is a fallen angel pushed out to our kids in a cute animation.

CLOSING

Christmas used to be banned because it was known as the time of evil. It was the time of belief in saturnalia, bachernalia, yule and the winter solstice. It was all about sun worship, revelry, getting drunk, fighting, orgies and participating in all sorts of debauchery.

Where is Jesus in any of this? We can clearly see that the root of all of this is idolatry. When I first began to learn of all of this I told myself, well I am not worshipping any of those things. I don't worship the sun. So I justified it all to myself. But because the Holy Spirit is God in me He was not about to let me keep going with all of this. NO MATTER HOW YOU SLICE IT, IT IS ALL ABOMINATION TO A HOLY GOD.

Look at what has now been mixed in with it, materialism. Buying for people that have everything they need and more? How are you sewing into the Ministry of Christ by doing that? At this time of year so may go so far overboard with spending and getting into debt that you cannot even give to the ministry of Christ. Have you ever stopped and thought of all the money that gets spent on this pagan celebration every year? Money that is not used for God's Kingdom but for satan's. Witches know exactly what is being celebrated, that it is all to honor their god – pan/satan. They laugh and mock God because His children are participating in their celebrations to their false god – idolatry.

1 Thess.5:22 - Abstain from all appearance of evil.

1 John 5:21 - Little children, keep yourselves from idols.

Do your own research, there is enough information out there for you to see the truth of this unholy pagan celebration that many of us have participated in without knowing the truth of it all.

It is the hope and prayer of this ministry that you will come completely out of this idolatry and confess and repent from it all. Live holy before a Holy God.
