

DRUGS Pt. 1: PSYCHEDELICS, HALLUCINOGENS, DEMONS, DESTROYING THE TEMPLE

DRUGS

If you listened to the recent sermons on drinking and smoking then you will see a common theme in today's sermon. Doing drugs, like street drugs is a sin against God. Some things from the recent sermons on drinking and smoking will be repeated in this sermon and we need to hear them again. I wanted to break each addiction: drinking, smoking and drugs out into separate sermons so that it will make searching for a particular topic on a specific addiction easier to find.

The popular saying "sex, drugs and rock-n-roll," is very telling. Usually a rebellious type of person is saying it while flipping off the world, or sticking out their tongue or throwing up devil horns. Each one of those things is sin against God. Sex outside of marriage, drugs that alter your mind and rock-n-roll that honors satan are all sin against a Holy God.

Elvis is a testimony of what sex, drugs and rock-n-roll will do to your life. He died away from Jesus and in fact, he mocked Jesus and put Him down. Many people don't know that because it isn't publicized because they want you to believe that he lived like hell but still went to heaven. That's a lie. Elvis practiced new age and even said that he himself was a god.

We call a lot of things drugs today. Taking something for a headache or a common cold is usually an over-the-counter drug. Some of us take prescription drugs to manage diabetes, high blood pressure, heart conditions etc. Then there are street drugs, drugs that are sold or made illegally. I'm going to focus on those, that is hallucinogens or psychedelic drugs.

Types of psychedelic drugs: acid/lsd, ecstasy, peyote, magic mushrooms, morning glory seeds, dmt. Also marijuana, meth, cocaine, pcp and all sorts of plants or roots that can cause hallucinations. These type of drugs are stimulants. When you do these kind of drugs you open the door for satan and the fallen angels to come into your life. Even some psychiatric drugs and prescription drugs can open your mind to demonic interaction.

One of my brother's did these kind of drugs and his life was completely ruined. That I know of he did cocaine, crack and meth and if you do those things it goes without saying that you've smoked pot. He lost his family because he chose drugs over them. He had his own business and he let it go because he was so deep into the drugs. His wife had had enough and she managed to get him out of the house and change the locks for her safety and the children's. As you can imagine, his friends at the time were not upstanding and his families' lives were even threatened. I can't imagine what they went through. He began living in the office of his business. He was raised just like me but he did not say no to the drugs.

A neighbor we used to have, her daughter got into drugs so deep that when she got pregnant and had twins she chose drugs over her children. Her parents adopted and raised her children. I know not having their mother or father in their lives from the start has taken a major toll on them.

DMT causes intense hallucinations that involve seeing, hearing, smelling, feeling and tasting things that are not real. I will add a caveat on to this, because drugs are a gateway for demonic interaction, not everything is a hallucination. The spirit realm is very real. The medical industry does not recognize demons, they don't know how to deal with them at all. Demons can certainly interact with you and cause you to see, hear, smell, feel etc. My brother told me a few things that happened to him and one of them was that he could feel evil things in the room with him, one of them came close to him, right next to his face and he could hear it breathing right beside his ear. But visually nothing was there. He knew something was there, it was a demon. It was certainly there present, in the room with him. That was not a hallucination. Satan loves it when people don't realize what's really going on so that they don't wake up to the spiritual war that is raging. The medical industry and paid for science saying it is just hallucinations helps to cloak the workings of Satan and the fallen angels. My brother was aware of scary evil things happening but that was not enough to make him quit.

Satan and the fallen angels can manifest visibly to those that practice ungodly things like this. They can cause you to see them or to see scary things, or to hear them, Satan thrives on fear. Demons can interact with your physical senses. Whether you see the demons or not, they are there because you invited them by participating in sin against God. They aren't leaving until you truly get saved through Jesus Christ, filled and sealed by The Holy Spirit and delivered. You have to break up their legal right to be there. If you don't belong to Jesus you have no protection against demons.

*Please play from 8:00 to 9:14 This is a video clip of Carlos Santana, a world famous guitarist, being interviewed by 60 Minutes. This footage is about what happened at Woodstock when he took LSD. STOP

He took LSD just before performing and he said his guitar turned into an "electric snake." Instead of being solid it became like a snake. He said his guitar would not stand still and that is why he made all the ugly faces, trying to control it. He said he asked "god" for help and said he'd never do it again. But he was not calling on the God of the Bible.*(about 1 min.)

The god Santana was talking to was not Jesus but rather satan. All famous musicians have bowed to satan. The luciferians have initiated names, they are initiates into the illuminati, into freemasonry, into the mystery religions, in short they serve satan and the fallen angels. Santana's name is in honor of satan. When you listen to interviews of Santana and the things he says and examine his spirituality you find that he is not talking about Jesus or God the Father but another god. Santana received his music from the demons. Rob Thomas, who collaborated with him on the album "Santana" said that after Santana had done his meditations he said he spoke with the angels and Rob said he wanted to get tapped into what he was doing. When you listen to what they are saying and you test the spirits, you realize they were in touch with fallen angels. That's what doing drugs and meditating does, it connects you with evil spirits. satan uses his servants who are famous to draw many souls to hell.

1 Peter 5:8 - Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:

God wants us to be sober-minded. Not high as a kite and strung out on drugs. We are not to be hallucinating so that we don't know what's real and what isn't.

satan is just waiting for you to try drugs so he can get you hooked and keep a grip on your soul. He wants to devour, that is to destroy you.

When you alter the state of your mind through hallucinogens, your reasoning, your ability to think and make rational decisions goes out the window. When you alter the state of your mind by using these drugs, you are doing the opposite of what God's Word says to do. That means you are going against God's will for your life. His Word is His will for our lives. The luciferians study God's Word so they can do the opposite of it and have His wrath and curses poured out against them. When we go against His Word, it is sin and it always opens the door for satan and the fallen angels to come into our lives and begin to attack and tear us down. Just as that verse said, satan seeks whom he may devour. You become his prey because you are not keeping a sober mind as God said to do, you are not being vigilant but rather you are playing right into satan's hands.

Let's take a similar look at doing drugs just like we looked at drinking and smoking.

Doing these type of drugs has no positive benefits to your body, only negative results. Habitual use of these drugs will destroy your health.

The following information I'm going to share is from MethFreeTn.org *Just a quick side note if you have listened to people like Ted Gunderson, former FBI agent over the Los Angeles division, then you know the government runs drugs and profits off of getting them on the streets - NOT OFF THE STREETS. That's all I'm gonna say about that. Listen to this: Meth mouth detection and prevention. Methamphetamine is a powerful and extremely dangerous stimulant.

I'm going to leave these gross looking "meth mouths" onscreen for a while so you understand clearly what happens from doing these drugs.

Symptoms and Causes: Poor oral hygiene: Binge meth users can be awake for days at a time and often ignore sound oral hygiene practices such as brushing, flossing and other forms of plaque removal. Binges can be followed by long periods of sleep, where plaque accumulates and salivary flow is lessened. With meth mouth, dental plaque often appears gray. The reason is not known at this time.

Diet: Meth is a potent appetite suppressant. Soft drinks containing high amounts of sugar caffeine and citric acids are sometimes used to prolong the high. These drinks, paired with other factors, contribute to the decay of teeth.

Bruxism: Due to the stimulant nature of the drug, the user becomes tense and anxious. Users can go days without sleep. These factors lead to extreme clenching and grinding of the teeth. This can contribute to tooth fracture and TMJ pain.

Loss of Tooth Structure: Interviews with correctional system dentists reveal that cuspids and premolars fracture easily after continued meth use. Clinical crowns of all affected teeth fracture at the cement-enamel junction. Anterior teeth, which are more susceptible to fracture, are often devastated by meth use.

Xerostomia: Meth causes dry mouth, which results in a change of both the quality and quantity of saliva. Saliva's buffering effects are altered along with an increase in virulence and quantity of oral bacteria.

Vasoconstriction: Meth use causes vasoconstriction, the narrowing of blood vessels, which is partially attributed to pseudoephedrine, one of the primary ingredients in meth. Vasoconstriction interferes with the body's ability to fight infection and heal itself, which contributes to periodontal diseases.

More About Meth: Meth can come in the form of a powder, pill, or rocklike chunks. It can be smoked, snorted, eaten or injected into the bloodstream. Physical and mental health problems associated with meth: seizures, heart attack, stroke, paranoia, dry, gray skin, devastated oral health.

These addicts are not spending their money at the dentist, they are trying to get the next high. They stay so strung out that they don't care to take the time to take care of themselves. My brother used to pass out for days. I found out that he got false teeth back in his early 30's. Before that time he had already been doing these kind of drugs. The dentist said once a cavity was barely started it would accelerate rapidly and his teeth would crumble, there was no filling it. I'm sure the drugs had a lot to do with the dental problems he had. My ex-sister-in-law shared that some of her step-brothers lost their teeth due to drugs.

Many of the drugs I mentioned earlier cause the addict to grind their teeth which can cause splits and cracks. Cocaine tears down the teeth and gums much like meth does. Smoking marijuana can cause mouth cancer and smoking anything can lead to cancer.

Meth alone mentioned some major health problems: heart attack and stroke. Some additional things listed under cocaine were twitches and tremors, kidney failure, lung problems, irregular heart beat, seizures etc. A pregnant woman on these drugs passes them right on to the unborn baby. If the mom is an addict, the baby will be born with the addiction as well. These type of drugs decrease your motor responses, can cause memory loss, shrinkage of your brain matter, death of brain cells, permanent brain damage etc. Addiction to psychedelics causes weight loss because the appetite is suppressed. It also makes sense that if you are passed out for days on end you are not eating anything. That's why most addicts are so thin. One of our neighbors got mixed up in drugs a few years back and it was noticeable that he had lost a lot of weight. His parents were intervening and once he stopped the drugs he gained the weight back. The same thing went on with my brother, he was very thin while on the drugs.

Sometimes the lure to do these drugs is a bizarre trip on acid and the thrill of how it might feel. The truth is you might be the one to fry your brain or die on the spot.

When you do these type of drugs not only are you altering your state of mind, you are damaging your health and risking your life. You could be the one to have a heart attack and die. Several times my brother thought he was having a heart attack. Each time he was told it was an anxiety attack. And once there was a report saying he had an enlarged heart. These type of drugs can end your life. Nothing good comes from illicit drugs.

Illicit drugs destroy the dwelling place of God which is our bodies. The Holy Spirit needs a sacred place to dwell but psychedelics open doors for other addictions, diseases and demons to come in. You cannot serve God in such a state. When evil spirits enter your life, their goal is to kill. They bring their friends and stay focused on tearing you down any way they can.

Someone addicted to these drugs has a hard time holding their lives together much less serving God. My brother was so strung out and addicted to meth and drugs like it, that he lost his family, his home, his job – everything.

Romans 6:13 – Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin: but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God.

That means we do not present the parts of our bodies to sin as instruments of wickedness, but present yourselves to God, as those who have been brought from death to life; and present the parts of your body to Him as instruments of righteousness.

When you are hooked on these type of drugs, you are presenting your body parts to be used as instruments of sin. When you take in things that destroy the organs in your body that God created in order for you to be healthy and strong so you can serve Him here on earth, it displeases Him and He can destroy you. God is patient but if you do not change and stop the drugs, God can reach His breaking point and decide that He is done with you.

CLOSING

These next verses pertain to drugs, drinking, smoking and any sin that tears your body down.

1 Cor.3:16 - Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? If any man defile (destroys) the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

God created you, and The Bible says you are fearfully and wonderfully made. (Psalm 139:14) God created you to know Him and bring Him glory. He has good plans for your lives (Jer.29:11, Eph.2:10) When you purposely do things like psychedelics you are tearing down His creation, you are going against His will for your life. He can decide enough is enough and go ahead and tear you down and take you out Himself.
